Foreword

With this 1957 publication of THE MIRROR we have attempted a depiction of most activities in which the school has participated during the 1956-57 term.

In these remaining pictures are the joys, sorrows, fun, and experiences we ventured into. As we grow older we hope this book will remind us of the school so dear to our hearts.

The Seniors

Dedication

The tipping of a hat symbolizes honoring or paying tribute to noted persons or deeds. In turn, we, the class of 1957, dedicate this yearbook to every member of our football team who bestowed upon us the honor of achieving the first Champion Football Team in our high school days so successfully and with so much pleasure.

Alma Mater

Biglerville High School we are bringing our gifts of homeage due.
With songs and praises ringing, our debts we owe to you;
Other high schools have their colors, which are loved by young and old,
But the noblest and the fairest are Biglerville's black and gold.

When we enter life's great battle, and our high school days are o'er
We will think of thee and love thee as ne'er we've done before.
Our hearts will surely linger, our lives will ever tell,
We love you, Alma Mater, true-hearted Biglerville.

Senior Class History

I 1953 - 54

We entered the familiar premises of Biglerville High School in September of '53 as fun-loving Freshmen. We were just beginning the long journey to our goal as Seniors. We were active in sports, band, Honor Society, activities and plays. Through this exciting we visited County Court House and also the State Capitol. The class elected Richard Fink as president and Lawrence W. Gulden was our advisor.

II 1954 - 55

We returned in '54 with Joan Tate as president. We sold candy at noon time and during athletic events to raise money for the Junior-Senior Prom and our Senior trip.

III 1955 - 56

Last year we entered Biglerville High School as "Jolly Juniors." October 11 was a big day for us, for we received our class rings. We proudly showed them off to everyone. Our projects this year included selling hot dogs at football games, sponsoring food sales, dances and skating parties. Our big event last year was our presentation of the Junior-Senior Prom ("A Night in Fairyland.") We chose Joyce Ebbert as our class president.

IV 1956 - 57

With much pride and joy we reach the summit — "Sophisticated Seniors." Our class consisted of 80 energetic people. Freda Warner was elected class president, with a final effort to raise funds for that memorable event — our Senior trip. We sold 900 lbs. of candy, 60 jackets, gallons and gallons of coke and coffee to wash down donuts.

We are looking forward for the big night when we receive our diplomas, but the memory of all our years of enjoyable times we have gained from B. H. S. will never be forgotten. We wish to extend our appreciation to those who have made these years pleasant, and to classes which follow we wish wisdom, happiness, and friendship as we have gained from our Alma Mater.

Class Prophesy

"Tonight on this platform you are assembled for the last time as a class. Your decisions now are to be made for your future success in life. How will you spend it?"

With the speaker's words ringing in my ears, my mind wanders to the future for my classmates and me. What would the future hold? As I glanced over the class I tried to visualize what the future would hold for us. This was my dream.

I went to pick up the milk this morning in the damp morning air and I thought of how early our faithful milkman, JOHN STEINER had to get up to deliver our good WRIGHT-TYPE MILK from WRIGHT'S SUPER DAIRY. Suddenly I received a blow on the head from the paper boy and guess whose "menace" it was? None other than JOYCE EBBERT TROSTEL'S. I hardly got the door closed when the phone rang. It was FREDA WARNER FURNEY who wanted me to go shopping with her to pick up a few things for the shower of NANCY DAVIS, who is marrying TOM LEEDY, a wealthy oil tycoon, in the near future.

I took a quick glance at the morning paper. THE PARKER GAZETTE, published by BARBARA PARKER, before starting my daily routine, and to my astonishment the headlines read, "BOYD SMITH BREAKS INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY RECORD." As I read on, great credit was given to the designer of the racer, JACK HORACE PALMER, a brilliant upcoming designer of the future. I was interrupted by the ringing of the doorbell, and as I opened the door the delivery man, GERALD McKINNEY from "SILVANOWICZ HANDY DANDY LAUNDRY" handed me the week's wash.

As I put the clothes away and started on the breakfast dishes, I turned on the radio to listen to "BUD BIRGENSMITH'S BREAKFAST CLUB." His guest star was JOYCE STARRY, a top popular singer of the day. Then I shook my new dustless mop, manufactured by BLOCHER AND LOTT MOP COMPANY, and went upstairs to mop.

Hours later, I looked at the clock and was terrified to see that I had only a half-hour to get dressed and go shopping with Freda. With much difficulty, I was ready when she arrived.

We called a "taxi-copter cab service" built by the CRUM AIRCRAFT CORPORATION. When the cab arrived and we climbed in, we greeted the driver, HELEN REX, and headed for BOB DARON'S DINER.

After a lovely luncheon we left the diner and started down town to shop. Our first stop was at MADAME REXROTH'S STYLE SHOPPE. She greeted me, and with the clap of her hands her graceful models, CATHERINE DAVIS, MARY ALEXANDER, and SHIRLEY MARTIN, appeared and displayed unique creations.

As we strolled down the street we caught a glimpse of the Mayor's streaming black Cadillac cruising by and who do you suppose was seated by his honor, the distinguished BRYANT (BOB) ROE, and he was smoking a BOWER cigar. The chauffeur was staunch, white-collared RUSSELL BOLEN.

We passed the BRICKER AND BROUGH "HOUSE OF WACKS." At the corner we met ANN DEARDORFF and NELSON WEBER, the recently engaged couple. Suddenly a truck rounded the corner from the ranch of WINNIE and CLAIR FETTERS and headed for the racing stables at CLARK'S RACE TRACK. The driver, KEN WAGAMAN, had aboard the truck four beautiful, Winfet stallions, a new breed of thoroughbred horses. The horses were to be ridden at the NAYLOR DERBY by champion jockey, GEORGE FLICKINGER. After a little chat with Snooks and Ann, we proceeded on up the street and passed BABE and JIM'S GYMNASIUM.

We went to PATSY SHEAFFER'S DISC MART to get JANE PLANK'S latest hit, "RASPBERRY HILL," written by JOAN SWAYZE. Next door we visited HARTZEL'S PRIVATE DETECTIVE AGENCY, where LOIS (GROUP)

HARTZEL was his secretary. We had just stepped inside when a squad car screeched to a halt and out stepped JANET HOLLABAUGH, a policewoman, to assist the agency in a baffling case. We had one more place to go, which was ANNALEE'S HOUSE FOR BRIDES to buy some last-minute articles for the shower.

Finishing our shopping we hailed a cab. We had gone a few blocks when we noticed a glare in the sky and people running down the street. As we rounded the corner we saw smoke and flames leaping from BOB SHAFER'S T. T. SHOP. We had to wait till the crowd cleared, so we stepped from the cab onto the pavement and who should we see but our former classmate, Fire Chief KEN BLATZLEY. He told us Bob had been watching the SHILLITO SHOW with his guest star, the well-known opera singer MADAME BARBARA FREED, when he sighted smoke pouring from under a storage room door.

Reaching home, I suddenly realized I had just enough time to keep my dental appointment at DR. SMALLWOOD'S. As I rushed in, his receptionist, BETTY KUYKENDALL, told me I was to go right in. After checking my teeth, he found a cavity and filled it with the new miracle drug put out by LONGENECKER AND CUTSHALL'S CHEMICAL WORKS.

After that ordeal I finally got home. I was glad to kick off my LINWOOD SHOES, and flop down on my new BRETZMAN SOFA. I had no sooner gotten settled when a car door slammed and I knew it was COLUMBINE BOWERS from NELLIE KANE'S NURSERY SCHOOL with the children. As they came bounding in the door, they handed me the mail. I noticed from the writing on the top letter that it was from my good friend, NANCY ARNOLD, who was touring Europe with LIEUTENANT COMMANDER GORMAN.

After dinner was over and I had put the children to bed, I sat down to finish the hair-raising mystery novel written by ANNE MAY. After reading awhile, I got thirsty and went to the kitchen and got a bottle of SHULTZIE-COLA.

I heard the door slam and as I walked into the room, there stood my neighbor PAT BUCHER. She had come to tell me that the MENTZER'S, JANNIE and RALPH, had announced the birth of triplets. And also that JIM HARMAN had married an heiress, PRINCESS ELAINE ALTHOFF. I was surprised by the stunning news. Then we sat down to watch television. As the picture came in, we saw EUGENE MUSSELMAN demonstrating a new typewriter. After that the announcer, JIM DAUGHENBAUGH, interrupted the program with a new flash that SYLVIA HELLER was the first Earthian to reach the moon.

We turned to channel 6000 to view "BRENDA PARKER PRESENTS." The play was "Love Can Be Beautiful," starring DORIS ORABELLE SHEAFFER and GARNET LEO TAYLOR. It was directed by DORIS McGLAUGHLIN and produced by GEORGE SMEED.

As the play was ending, the phone rang and it was DONNA SLAYBAUGH HEYSER asking me to come to a "bull band" for the newlyweds, PEGGY WICKLINE and MARTIN SHENK. I told her I couldn't make it as I was planning a welcome home party for Nobel Peace Award Winner, JOAN TATE. I had invited PATRICIA WARRENFELTZ, BONNIE TAYLOR, and DOROTHY ANTHONY, radio and T. V. columnists, to interview her.

Before going to bed I wrote a check for ODOM'S GROCERY STORE. Then I retreated upstairs and slipped into my pajamas and took off my JOYCE SHEAFFER MAKE-UP and set my SWARTZ ALARM CLOCK. It had been a tiring and busy day. I was glad to see and hear about my classmates.

The speaking system suddenly gave a loud crack which brought me out of my dream and back to the graduating platform.

Signed,

Three Predicting Seniors

YE BALLAD OF SIR PERCY

Sir Percy was a knight of old,
He used to knock all comers cold;
He rode a horse, a noble steed,
'Twas built for comfort, not for speed.
He bore a shield, also a lance,
And wore the best cast iron pants.
And when he wished to be at ease,
He lounged in leather B.V.D.'s.

Now Kismuh was the sweetest maid
That in the Sultan's harem played;
Her eyes were of the fairest hue
She looked just like an engenue.
Her clothes were latest harem style —
A silken veil, a witching smile;
When she before Abdullah passes,
They had to lash him to the mast.

Sir Percy made a grand crusade,
Some Turks he slew and some he slayed.
He slaughtered Turks in manner rough,
And kept the tally on his cuff;
He fit and fought with manly pride.
"Jerusalem!" was all he cried.
He made those Turks look up in fear,
Till some Moslem, lo, chawed off his ear.

Then Kismuh came, the fight to see,
With wigor, wim, witality;
And to revive him danced awhile.
Like Cleopatra on the Nile;
Cried he, "What do they call you, kid?"
"Kismuh," cried she; you bet he did —
And when the evening shadows came,
He still was asking her her name.

Here's one for Mr. Sheats

A man marries a girl 5; he is seven times as old as she. They live together five years and he is 40 and she is 10 — four times as old. They live together five years more and he is 45 and she is 15 — that's three times as old. Now the question arises as to how long they must live together to be both the same age.

Ken: "What's the best way to teach a girl to swim?"

Nelson: "Well that requires a lot of technique. First, you put your left arm around her waist, then you gently take her left hand and — "

Ken: "She's my sister."

Nelson: "Oh! Push her off the dock!"

One cold night Nancy was driving Ann home. The frost was thick on the windows and, after a couple of near accidents, Ann tactfully suggested that it might help if they cleaned the windshield.

"What's the use?" Nancy replied. "I left my glasses at home."

Clair: "May I have the next dance?"
Winnie: "Sure, I don't want it."

Miss Freight Train of 1954 was promenading along Fifth Avenue in the Easter Parade. She looked like a million — and not much younger. She was wearing a strapless potato sack and open-toed Army shoes. She was a lovely girl. She had her mother's eyes and her father's hair, but it was her father's turn to wear it. She had a face that grows on you. If it grew on me, I'd have it chopped off. She had an hour-glass figure. It took an hour to figure out what it was. She was so ugly her family gave her up for Lent. As she was sashaying down Fifth, every head turned — away! As she reached 50th, a photographer stopped her and asked, "Did anyone ever tell you you look like Jane Russell?"

"No," she purred.

"Don't worry," he said. "Nobody ever will."

THE WAIL OF JOYCE EBBERT (EDITOR)

I wish I was a little rock, a setting on a hill
A doin' nothing all day long, but just a settin' still.
I wouldn't eat, I wouldn't drink, I wouldn't even wash,
I'd set and set a thousand years and rest myself, by gawsh.

Junior Class History

We, the Class of '58, entered Biglerville Junior High School in September of 1952. We were eager as seventh graders to get a good start in high school life, and with the help of Mr. Hobart Benchoff, our class advisor, were were able to get better acquainted with the different activities and participate in them.

During our eighth grade we had Mr. Cecil Snyder as class advisor and in the ninth grade we visited the county court house and the state capitol at Harrisburg.

Now as a class of "Juniors" we received our class rings. We were participating in many school activities such as: Basketball, Football, Band, Chorus, and several have joined the Senior High B-Club. We have sold "Prom Peanuts" during the 1954-55 school year. Thomas Cline has been our Class President during the past four years. This year we chose William Payne to lead us.

We are looking forward to our next year, in which we hope to achieve our goal in B. H. S. history.

A MODERNIZED NURSERY RHYME

Once two diminuitive specimens of the genus homo
Ascended a slightly elevated portion of the earth's surface,
To obtain a small quantity of that aqueous mixture composed of hydrogen and oxygen.

The puerile representative of this youthful pair, being suddenly precipitated to the stony substance toward which all things gravitate,
Sustained in consequence thereof a fracture of that part of the head known as the cranium.
Whereupon his weaker companion, being agitated over the unfortunate state of her fellow traveler, lost her equilibrium, and followed him in his untimely descent.

Mrs. Haas told her senior English class to write a homework composition titled "My Dog." After reading all the compositions, she called up Barbara and said, "Your composition, 'My Dog,' is the same as Brenda's—word for word."

Barbara answered: "Why not? It's the same dog."

Starting a discussion having to do with the atomic theory, Mr. Allison wrote an equation on the board and stated that a certain number of electrons were involved. From this he developed an entire board full of equations, winding up at the bottom with, "So you can see we have five less electrons than at the start. What has become of them?"

Not a sound from the class. Imperiously the instructor asked again, "Where are those electrons?" It was time for action, and from a rear seat came a voice in gruff command: "Don't nobody leave this room!"

Caesar Ha! Ha!

Oh! when I entered high school
I was a happy lad.
First year Latin wasn't so hard,
But Caesar was too bad.
Caesar conquered many men,
And many nations conquered he;
But in the second chapter
Caesar conquered me.
At home I took my sad, sad grade
I trembled to my shoe
But when I showed my card to Pa,
He said, "I flunked it too!"
